funeral that assembled to see. When the time fixed for the funeral had arrived the street for several blocks was literally lammed with men, women, children, horses and conveyances of every description.

The plain black coffin was ornamented with a silver plate, upon which was inscribed: "John Hussey. Died June 21, 1887. Aged 58 years, 11 months and 27 days."
The floral designs were many and tasteful. From the amployes of Castle Garden had come a representation of Faith, Hope and Charity, a cross, anchor and heart, reating upon a pillow and surmounted by a wreath. A harp of smilax with the word
"Silent" on it had come from William Geoglegan.

NEW-JERSEY.

HOBOKEM.—Five Italians, George Jann and Marie, his wife: Angelo Christo and Denire, his wife, and Simon Schrino, were arrested yesterday as they were about to sail for Europe on the Bromen steamer Eibe. They are charged with awinding Jacob Kabatchinick, of No. 202 Broome-st. Out of jewelry valued at about 8900.

They bought the jewelry from the dealer, as he alleges, but asked that before paying for it they be allowed to show it to a friend whom they said was an expert. The dealer alleges that at the time they took the jewelry they had aircady engaged passage for Europe. The police believe that the prisoners are an organized band of awindiers who travel about from place to place. The prisoners deny that they intended to defraud Kabatchinick, but appearances seem to be against them.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY. PERKSKILL.—The burglars who have been prowling about Peekskill for several weeks prove to be fiveer sky young lads, age from sixteen to twenty. On Friday Harry Brown, age eighteen, son of Stephen Brown, a well-to-do-cilizen, was arrested and lodged in jail. He confessed that William Barrer, son of Allen Barger, and Lombard Grey, age about twenty, were connected with him. A resident of Peekskill gave bonds for Barger's appearance. Grey is still at large, but officers are on the lookout for him.

ENLARGING THE MUSEUMS.

PROGRESS OF THE NEW BUILDINGS-THE SUNDAY

Nothing has yet been done by the trustees of the Museum of Natural History toward breaking ground for the addition to the building provided for by the last Legislature. The Park Commissioners say that they have been informed that the plans for the new building are nearly ready and will be precented to the Park Board in a few days for their approval. The Commissioners express themselves as desirous of doing anything to facilitate the trustees and they say that the plans will be presented at themselves as desirous of doing anything to facilitate the trustees and they say that the plans will be presented at once to the Board of Apportionment and the work may be begun this fall, if the bonds to provide for the money are disposed of. The Park Board recently requested the trustees of the Museum of Art to present the plans for fitting up the interior of the new building now in progress at that museum. The structure is under contract to be finished in November. It has now reached the third story.

A bill also passed the Legislature granting the Board of Estimate authority to give the museums cach $10,000 yearly toward opening them on Sunday. The trustees of the Museum of Natural History have indicated their willingness to make arrangements for Sunday opening. One man who is interested in both museums as a contributor expressed his opinion that both would be of ened to the public on Sundays when the new buildings were complete.

"There is a tendency," he added, "to press this matter too much by those who wish the museums open. It should be remembered that there are numerous difficulties to overcome. The trustees having control of the Institutions, if conservative are also careful men. They have established the museums and they will take no step hastily without full condience in the result. From what they have done to secure collections and place the museums on a firm basis they deserve the entire confidence of the public, and I believe they have it."

FOREPAUGH'S NEW OLYMPIA BEADY, Adam Forepaugh will open his big show at Staten Island on Tuesday, and in all probability the crowds that visited Erastina last summer to see the Wild West show will be as nothing compared to the throngs that will hustle one another this season to get a glimpse of "The New Olympia," as he styles it. Anyhow, this is the mildent belief of his managers, and they have made iberal arrangements for the conveyance of the expected multitude. In addition to the Staten Island Ferry Company's boats every fifteen minutes, the New-York Excursion Company will run three steamers to the krastina dock; the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company two, and the John Sylvester will make special excursions daily.

and the John Sylvester will make special excursions daily.

Mr. Forepaugh has all the animals and horses which form his circus domiciled at Erastina, and he promises all the sights, seenes and sports that were ever seen in an ancient or modern circus. There will be giadintorial contests and Roman chariot races, a revival of the ancient games of Greece, and a show of trained animals which is to rival Mr. Barnum's to put the matter mildly. There is a race track of half a mile for the chariot and other track contests, and three rings and an elevated stage for other performances. There is accommodation for twenty thousand sightseers, all under canvas. Muldoon and Matsada are to wrestle again for a purse of $1,000, and Marshall's Japanese Tourists will show their wonderful tricks. There will be four spectacular pieces representing Laila Rookh's travels through India, Cleopatra on her way to meet Anthony, and a pyrotechnic pageant. Custer's last rally, the main piece of the Wild West Show, will also have a place in the programme.

This afterneon the grounds and the menagerie will be open for inspection. Bolivar, the largest living ele phant, will be seen taking his bath, and the numerous other animals will be found in a jungle so skilfully planned that it is worth a visit even if the animals happened to be absent. But at 3 o'clock the island will rock with the united roar of the luge beasts for their Sunday dinner.

PLEASURE AND REST AT THE HOTEL BRIGHTON Among the many thousands who flocked from the city yesterday to seek health, fresh air and recreation by the seaside not a few found their way to the Hotel Brighton at Coney Island. The opening day of the second season under Messrs. Cunningham & McGrath's man-agement was marked by the best of weather and an season under Messis. Commigan & weather and an attendance which could not fail to be cheering to the hearts of the proprietors. The bright, attractive and roomy hotel building has been freshly painted and decoroated. The hotel is run on both the American and European plans. Charles T. Commigham has charge of the office and the reception of guests and is not slack in attending to the comfort of those whom he entertains. John J. McGrath sees that the guests fare well in the dining-room. The music is a special feature. Cappa's 7th Regiment Band of fifty pieces has been engaged for the season, and yesterday the afternoon and evening concerts were listened to by large and appreciative audiences.

The hotel was thronged from morning till night. Crowds poured in all day long, especially after 3 o'clock, when the Saturday half-holiday had released many business men from their desks. Many families have already taken rooms for the season. Among the names registered yesterday were those of General James Jourdan and family, Colonel William E, Rider, Votable, Dr. J. F. Morgan and Judge Frederick A. Massey.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH SUNDAY-SCHOOL PICNIC PLYMOUTH CHURCH SUNDAY-SCHOOL PICNIC.

The death of Henry Ward Bee her did not interfere with the annual piente of the Sunday-school of Plymouth Church, for the school and its friends, nearly 3,000 strong, sent to Roton Point, on the Sound, yesterday for their annual day of leasting, music and dancing in the open air. Deacon White let Wall Street take care of itself, and was as happy and jolly as the youngest. Pastor Halliday was also there and had a bright smile and cheery voice for ail. The party went on the Grand Republic at 9 a.m. and arrived at Roton Point about noon. During the afternoon there were games and other amusements. On the return the steamer started from the grounds about 5 p. m., and it was a tired but merry party that was landed at Jewell's Wharr in the evening.
